The Imperial Crown Hotel located in Halifax town centre, opposite the railway station and with easy access from M62 makes it an ideal base for either business or pleasure. Originally a textile mill converted into a coaching inn in the 1800s, the hotel offers modern amenities including family and executive rooms.

The Wallis Simpson Café Bar offers drinks and informal snacks while the wood-paneled restaurant offers a variety of English and Continental dishes. The Victorian Archives Suite can seat up to 120 guests for a dinner dance or wedding reception or can be divided into two smaller rooms for meetings or training courses. We also have smaller meeting rooms available. Simply call our meeting and events co-ordinator for further information on our flexible packages.

With excellent motorway and railway networks, this hotel is ideally situated for either business or leisure.
